

KVK Dibrugarh participated in 26th Horticultural show of AAU, Jorhat

KVK Dibrugarh participated on 1st February, 2014 in the 26th Horticultural Show-cum-competition, which was organized by the Department of Horticulture, Assam Agricultural University, Jorhat with an aim to provide more emphasis on horticulture commodity in the state. The farmers from every nook and corner of the state participated in the programme.

Hon'ble Vice Chancellor, Dr. K.M. Buzarbaruah of the University inaugurated the programme and asked everybody to come forward and all stakeholders to work in group, where technocrats, bureaucrats, farmers and other developmental agencies provide their whole hearted support. Horticulture sector is now considered as sun shining sector in Agriculture and this sector in real means can fulfill farmers' expectation up to the mark.

KVK Dibrugarh and District Agricultural Department thereby tried to provide exposure to few progressive farmers of the Dibrugarh District to this mega event. The message for participation in the horticulture show was also circulated in the Dibrugarh District through Krishi Vigyan Kendra and District Agricultural Office, Dibrugarh to various progressive farmers. One group comprising 5 number of women from Dibrugarh was led by Mr. Irshad Ali, Agricultural Development Officer. An exposure visit was also organized by KVK, Dibrugarh taking five numbers of farmers to participate in the show-cum-competition. A total of five awards could be achieved by the farmers of the Dibrugarh in various section i.e. First prize in knol-khol, second prize in root and bulb (vegetables) and three consolation prizes in cauliflower, fruit vegetables and sakala tenga respectively. Prize winning participants were Dr. M. Kachari, SMS (Horticulture), KVK, Dibrugarh (knoll-khol), Mr. P. B. Baroi, Bogibeel (Beet - root and bulb and cauliflower), Mrs. Janmoni Gogoi, Dibrugarh (Sakala tenga) and Mr. Sujit Yadav, Bogibeel (Fruit vegetable).

10

